(b) to (f) The saloon was renovated at a cost of Rs. 58 thousands. This is a wooden bodied saloon with steel under frame built by Liluah Workshops in 1921 by the then East Indian Railway for use of Chief Operating Superintendent. In view of the historic background that Shri Rabindra Nath Tagore travelled in this coach in 1941 during his last rail journey, the coach has not been condemned. The coach had become uneconomical to be maintained and has been in dis-use for more than a decade.

The saloon has been renovated on the request from Vishwa Bharti to keep it as an exhibit at Bolpur station.
